1 One of the best textiles I have ever owned. Spectacular 26 X 30 cotton bandana with brilliant deep crimson design. Portrait of young King George III at center surrounded by Pitt, Conway, Camden and Hawke. Inscription in large letters around four sides "May his Majesties reign be ever Crowned with Laurels, His Throne supported by Justice and Guarded by Honest Men of such true Patriotic Principles - May Commerce Flourish, and the Band of Union ever Remain Unbroken between England and America - And may that Man be forever Banished his Majesties Presence who would Endeavor to Disunite the Subjects Love to their King, or attempt to Ruin the Trade of this Country".

William Pitt (1708 - 1778), first Earl of Chatham, was one of the most important men in 18th century British politics. One of his best known acts, for which he was revered by the American colonist, was his work in 1766 to have the hated Stamp Act repealed.

Henry Seymour Conway (1721 - 1795), had a long and distinguished military and political career. He led the House of Commons in the repeal of the Stamp Act, and was later Governor of New Jersey from 1772 until his death in 1795.

Sir Charles Pratt (1714 - 1794), first Earl Camden, famed jurist and political leader, staunchly opposed taxation of the American colonies in the House of Lords, and declared the Stamp Act unconstitutional.

Edward Hawke (1705 - 1781), was a noted naval commander and First Lord of the Admiralty from 1766-1771, at the time the bandana was made.

The statements on commerce, trade and an unbroken union with America are obvious references to the Stamp Act and American taxation. This piece certainly dates between 1766 (Stamp Act) and 1772 (Conway's departure for New Jersey).

Overall condition is very fine. A few small insignificant brown spots, a few very small separations from 1/8" to 3/4", and a half dozen small stitched repairs. Colors are very bold with no fading. The earliest printed historical textile I have had the pleasure of offering. 13,000.

2 One of the best political "Press" items in existence. Large photograph of John F. Kennedy seated in his rocking chair in the Oval Office, speaking with Joseph Kingsbury-Smith, famed publisher of the New York Journal - American. Inscribed in person by JFK - "For Joe Smith - with esteem and very best wishes - John F. Kennedy". In original hand made sterling silver frame by world renowned jewelers Cartier of New York, Paris and London. Overall size 11 X 12 1/2. 5,250.

3 Of the thousands of pieces of superb ephemera I have offered in my catalogs over the past 29 years, this certainly ranks in the top ten. A check for $50 on the Syracuse City Bank dated May 16, 1857, made out to "Captain John Brown of Kansas" and signed by famed abolitionist Gerrit Smith. Boldly signed on reverse by John Brown himself.

Gerrit Smith, wealthy philanthropist and social reformer, was a fervent supporter of abolition and the Underground Railroad. An advocate of the use of force against the pro slavery factions in Kansas, Smith was one of the Secret Six who provided funds for Brown. Following the raid at Harpers Ferry in 1859 Smith denied having provided money for Brown, and he worked himself up to a nervous breakdown (and a stint in an insane asylum) over fears he would be tried for treason. If he had been tried, this check could have been the proverbial "smoking gun".

Accompanied by two reference books - Companions in Conspiracy, John Brown and Gerrit Smith, by Chester Hearn, and The Secret Six by Edward Renehan. An astounding rarity in superb condition. 13,500.

4 The largest example seen of the rare early Charleston South Carolina slave hire badges made by Charles Prince. Slave tags were in use in Charleston from 1801 until 1864, and were worn by slaves to show that their owners had paid an annual tax to hire them out for work at different locations. Most tags measure about 1 1/2 - 2". This huge 3 1/2" example is boldly stamped "Charleston - No. 35 - Porter - 1801", and stamped on the reverse "C Prince" in a rectangular cartouche. Far superior to the small 49mm (2") example sold 7-8 years ago by Bowers & Merena, which brought $19,550. Excellent condition, nice patina. 13,500.

5 Wonderful 13" solid gold watch chain and charm from the New York City Fire Dept, late 19th century. The individual chain links are tiny sections of fire hose secured by tiny silver couplings. A 2 1/4" ladder at center, T-bar for buttonhole is a nozzle. At end is a gold photo locket with high relief steam pumper and ENGINEER. Other side a high relief trumpet. Beneath the steamer is engraved the owners badge number 71. From the collection of Kenneth Strauss, President of Macy's, who died in the 1970's. 3,750.

6 One of the best signed Houdini photos you ever see. Large 8 X 10 (sight) card mount "Houdini's flight in his biplane...Hamburg Nov 26 1909". Most collectors are not aware that Houdini was an aviator - not only did he set various records in the 1909-10 period, but he garnered loads of publicity for his theatrical career. Crowd watches and waves from below, and if you use a magnifier Houdini himself is clear and recognizable at the controls. Boldly inscribed in ink at upper left "Good Luck - Houdini". Double matted and custom framed 12 X 16. 7,250.

7 Large 17 1/2" Bowie knife with 12" blade boldly stamped "SOUTHERN RIGHTS" in block letters extending for 3". Heavy stag grip. Minor scattered pitting to blade. The only flaw of note is that the shallow pommel cap - a 1 1/4" circular disc that would have been silver or brass - is missing from the end of the grip. John Sexton sold this knife for $8,500 to Dr. Paul Griffin of Shreveport back in the mid 90's. 7,500.

8 Superb sixth plate daguerreotype of a gent with bushy sideburns, wearing a long coat and a broad brimmed (Sam Houston style) hat. In his right hand he holds a large Bowie knife horizontally at his waist. At his belt are another smaller sheathed knife and a revolver in a slim jim holster mounted on a cross belt. His left hand grips the muzzle of a rifle or shotgun at his side. Velvet mat embossed T Faris, Melodeon Gallery, Cincinnati [note city spelled wrong!]. A great dag! 3,750.

9 Texas Guinan operated a number of the best speakeasies in New York City, including the lavish El Key Club with gangster Larry Fav. She was famous for greeting the customers with "Hello Suckers". She was also the first movie cowgirl, with a successful career as a western heroine in the silent movie era. Superb full sheet poster 27 X 41 featuring both her famous phrase and her image as a gorgeous cowgirl. Couple minor repairs in margin, basically excellent, on linen. 2,950.

10 Always a favorite with Currier & Ives and western collectors. N Currier print "The Independent Gold Hunter on His Way to California". With tools, cooking implements, a scale, a pocket full of weapons and a string of sausages. Beautiful condition in original frame 12 1/2 X 16 1/2 (few small veneer losses to frame). 3,000.

11 Exceedingly rare large poster from the Spanish Civil War, Hitler hiding behind mask of Franco. The only markings are a stamp "Atelier Populaire Numero 3" (Popular Workshop #3) 32 X 48, mounted on thin card. A few minor spots and some light stain along old quarter folds. Of course these would have been suppressed, very possibly unique after 75 years passage. 975.

12 Wonderful 6 1/2" porcelain plate, kneeling slave in chains "Am I Not a Man and a Brother". Pristine mint. 1,500.

13 This is wonderful! Exquisitely detailed miniature painting on porcelain Babe Ruth, holding Louisville Slugger. Detail is so fine that you can see hairs in his eyebrows and the grain in the wooden bat. On thick porcelain in gilt hanging frame 2 1/4 X 3 1/2. Comes with leather and velvet folding standup easel case (not shown). Circa 1930's. 3,250.

14 Original pencil drawing Uncle Sam, signed James Montgomery Flagg 7 X 10, excellent. 1,350.

15 Corkscrews have been collected for probably 200 years or more, but I never paid any attention to them until this incredible item surfaced. 5 1/2" corkscrew with 3" brass figure of a seated slave. His arms are tied behind him and made immovable by a bar across his back, the bar being tied to a rope around his neck that holds a sign "To Be Sold". Obviously he's being punished by being forced into this very uncomfortable position. An amazing rarity, circa 1830-1860. 4,750.

16 Outstanding George Washington pewter rim medallion circa 1800 "WASHINGTON - Aetatis 68" (Age 68, his age when he died). Portrait by C P Harrison from Gilbert Stuart painting. Mirror reverse. Large 3 1/2" size, typical of pewter rims from the 1800-1820 period. Excellent. 6,750.

- 17 Charleston SC slave tag 1824 with the very rare FRUITERER designation. Excellent condition with bold stamping's and nice patina. The only other example I've seen in recent years sold about 4-5 years ago for $10,450 (Ford Collection). 8,750.
